

About the Authors

Anthony Burden is in his fourth year as a math major, history minor. After graduation, he hopes to attend law school.

Jason Bush is a 4th year Anthropology student in the Honors program. Academic interests include medical anthropology, indigenous archaeology, and oral tradition. Future plans include graduate research and completing his MA in Anthropology.

Saliha Chattoo is in her last year of her undergraduate degree with a major in Anthropology and a minor in Classics. She plans to begin a masters degree in Socio-Cultural Anthropology in the fall of 2010.

Brittany Crockett is in the third year of her BA at the U of A, with a major in English and a minor in Classical Studies. Although her main areas of interest lie far away in twentieth century literature, she has very much enjoyed her stay here in Ancient Palestine and would come back any time.

Caitlynn Cummings is in her fifth and final year of her Bachelor of Arts degree with a double major in Classics and English at the University of Alberta. Caitlynn plans to pursue a master's degree in creative writing, english literature, and/or book history in Canada or the UK.

Katrina Witt is in her fourth year of Honours History, specializing in German memory and interpretations of the Second World War. After graduating, she plans to go into graduate studies in Classics.