

About the Authors

Heather Gerow is in her fourth and final year of a Bachelor of Arts in History, minoring in Religious studies. Her interests include ancient, military, religious, and women's history, though she is planning on specializing in the history of the Ancient Near East.

Noor Iqbal is in her third-year of a double major in German and History. She is a handweaver, and is interested in the environmental, religious, and cultural tensions of the early modern period.

Marie-Christine Jutras is in her 3rd year of Combined Honors in History and Political Science. She enjoys studying 20th century history and politics of countries around the world. She has a particular interest in the guilt and memory of nations involved in the Holocaust.

Ellen Keith is a fourth-year history student with a minor in Creative Writing. She loves traveling and learning languages, and hopes to pursue a graduate degree in Holocaust Studies.

Emily Lieffers is a History major and Political Science minor in her fourth year at the University of Alberta. She is particularly interested in twentieth-century North American history and international relations.