

Acknowledgements

THIS VOLUME DEVELOPED over several years and ultimately came to fruition with the help of Jonathan Hart, editor of The Canadian Review; of Comparative Literature/Revue Canadienne de Littérature Comparée, for which I am grateful. He also helped make possible the co-publication with the University of Alberta Press. I wish to acknowledge Irene Sywenky at CRCL, and Alan Brownoff, designer, and Peter Midgley, copyeditor, at the University of Alberta Press, for their excellent work in bringing this volume to press as painlessly as possible, and especially Mary Mahoney-Robson, editor, who has once again allowed me to make use of her talents. The Press would also like to thank Gail Lint and Barb Johnson at the The Alberta Foundation for the Arts for rephotographing the cover image. Thanks to my research assistant, Justin Dittrick, for his invaluable help with manuscript preparation. I would like, finally, to thank Eugene Bertoldi, Eleanor Bertoldi, Jeanette Lynes, Nat Hardy, and Katherine Robinson for their sustaining friendship.

Portions of chapter 2 appear in Shakespeare and Domestic Loss: Forms of Deprivation, Mourning, and Recuperation and are reprinted with the permission of Cambridge University Press.

This book has been published with the help of a grant from the Humanities Research Institute, the University of Regina.